Misha – glad you are safe. Got your documents this morning. We still need the following: (1) a current court order or document directing that the Sheriff's Office serve the paperwork. Our agency normally does not serve civil papers of this type since 1998. We serve many papers but only those Idaho Code specifically states that the Sheriff and only the Sheriff shall serve. All others are served by local process servers. Make sure if you get a court order that it is a current one and covers service of the actual Complaint and Summons. The other issue that might play in is the idea of a conflict of interest in have the Sheriff's Office serve the papers when the Sheriff's Office is a named defendant. Obviously, if you get or have the order, I would need copies of the actual documents to be served and your letter of instruction identifying who needs to be served. I did not open your two attachments so let me know if they apply – we don't generally open unidentified or un-titled attachments.

Afternoon Mike,

I am in need of the following civil suite to be served to the perspective parties.

I've attached the fee waiver form as well.

Please let me know what you need from me to ensure everyone is served. I am currently in safe housing with very limited resources and ability to get around so please advise via email should you have any questions.

Respectfully,

Misha

Misha - I do not recall a recent Civil Protection Order. There likely was a "No Contact" order issued in the battery case. Please let me know which type of order you mean as they are different creatures. Your point of contact for a copy of the No Contact Order would be victim services or the clerk's office. If what you mean is an actual Civil Protection Order (CPOR), the points of contact would be the same, except you say you were never served? Normally the victim in a battery case would not get a copy of any No Contact Order issued by the court and binding on the defendant. For a CPOR you, as petitioner, would definitely get served a copy and in that case if still un-served I would be your point of contact. Once served, you would need to get extra copies from the court. Let me know which type of order you are thinking of so that I can guide you from there.

Morning Mike,

May I get a copy of the protective order regarding Philip Sweet - I need it for the victim advocacy I am working with in another county and have yet to ever be served a copy.

If you are not my point of contact for this please let me know so I can ask the correct person.

Thank you greatly.

Yes! Thank you so much. Greatly appreciate your knowledge and ability to effectively answer a question all while adding the additional context so I don't have to keep digging in the wrong direction.

Make it a blessed day!

In a broad sense, BCSO would be legally permitted (required) to disclose BCSO records (i.e., those records generated and maintained by BCSO) still in its possession, with or without redactions depending on the circumstances, meeting the requestor's search criteria, and not exempted from release by any provision of the Idaho Public Records Act, Federal or State Code, or otherwise by direction of counsel or PA. We cannot release records that are not our agency records, even if we have a copy of them in our file, unless directed to do so by counsel. When we receive a Subpoena Duces Tecum, it is presented to counsel for review and generally results in a direction to release the specified record. Over the years, dispatch logs, calls, etc., have been subject to differing interpretations. At one point, dispatch calls and related logs that were connected to a Bonners Ferry Police Department case were considered BFPD records and requestors were directed to BFPD. Then there arose an issue as to whether BFPD was able to pull the dispatch materials for generic calls that did not result in an actual BFPD Incident Report. In those cases, now, our agency produces those records in response to a records request because our agency took the call and did the dispatch portion. There are all kinds of nuances in answer to your question, but I hope the above helped.

Hi Mike — quick question.

When someone submits a public records request (PRR), rather than a subpoena, to BCSO, which agencies' records is BCSO legally permitted to disclose to the requester?

I believe I know the answer, but was hoping you could confirm it for me.

Than you in advance.

Misha - sorry about the delay in answering this - I was in Post Falls from Friday thru Sunday evening. You would call dispatch (208-267-3151) and the minute the messaging system begins just hit "O" to connect to dispatch, let them know you need to set up a civil standby and why. I can alert them ahead of time if you want assuming you still need your stuff. Or I can reach out to Philip and try to get them to get your stuff to me - let me know. If you call dispatch for a civil standby - those are normally done by the regular road deputies - the one on right now is Jeppesen.

Subject: Civil Standby Request

March 28, 2026

Morning Mike,

Do I ask you directly for a civil standby or do I need to call BCSO to schedule one?

All I need is to be able to run into my former dwelling and grab my pillows and blankets off the bed as I forgot to grab them.

I am living in the car and unable to sleep due to freezing temperatures. I have zero financial resources much less fuel to run my vehicle at night as a means to stay warm.

An alternative option would be for someone to call Michelle and ask her directly to assist by having her bring them into town for me so that I don't waste LEO resources—as she isn't responding to my texts and is most likely being restricted by Philip from having any communication with me.

Any suggestions would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,

Misha & Tater

Her email address is ecarey@boundarysheriff.org. The report you are looking for is likely 01-2026-00164, but when I looked this morning no narrative had been done and I don't believe Delevan is on duty today. In any event it would, even if completed, likely fall into the "open-pending" exemption until the case is concluded, but Emily can give you more details on that. As to the document that was served at the time of booking, it is a court issued No Contact Order in the criminal case, which is different from a court issued Civil Protection Order in a civil case. We would serve you a copy of a CPOR as a petitioner, but normally not a copy of a No Contact Order as that is simply issued by the judge in a criminal case and controls what the defendant can and can't do. I would check with the court, victim services, and or the PA next week to see if they can get you a copy. It is technically not our record, but the court's. Sorry I could not be more helpful

Misha, please find attached the return of service for the Subpoena Duces Tecum. Bill and I missed each other this morning, and he was back in Sandpoint before I could get the subpoena to him. He requested (telephonically) that because of his schedule I email the subpoena to him and he would gladly accept it via electronic service. That was done this morning at 10:34 and he acknowledged receipt at 11:11 am.

Morning Mr. Rosenthal,

Please deliver the subpoena to one Bill Wilson, Boundary county Civil Attorney, at his place of employment/office located here in Boundary County (e.g., City Hall/Boundary County Courthouse).

City Hall 7232 Main Street, Bonners Ferry, ID 83805

Boundary County Courthouse 6452 Kootenai St., Bonners Ferry, ID 83805

I apologize that I do not know where his office is located, but am assuming he works within one of the two locations.

SIDE NOTE: I noticed that in email communication between Prosecution from 2024 that subpoenas were initially sent to the states witnesses (e.g., Garrett, Pluid, Isaac etc.) via email - that said; since the rules permit email submission of subpoenas please note that you may serve via email in the event you wish to do so and/or assuming the rule applies across the board to Bill Wilson at at: Bill.Wilson@bonnercoid.gov since he isn't in town until next week per his work schedule as a means to expedite issuance.

let me know if you need anything else and thank you for your service, sir!

Respectfully,

Misha

Misha – completely forgot to mention yesterday that our agency always requires, per Idaho Code, a “Letter of Instruction” whereby the Sheriff’s Office is requested to serve a particular document, who is to be served, where they can be located, etc., signed and dated (by you) the party requesting service. Don’t worry about dropping one off – just reply email to this email with the necessary information so that we have that for our file. I will accept that and consider it as signed as I know it is coming from you and we spoke in person. Once I receive your email I will proceed with service.
